Change by Grace Hall

March is here when wind does blow
Push us out of the speed called slow.
Winter is fine, relax, enjoy T.V.
But at the end there's so much to see

Look around, God is doing his thing
He told the flowers, Hey, it's spring.
They come from the dirt, they enfold
All so beautiful, to behold.

Now Christ within, that still small voice
Tells each of us, you have a choice
Get outside, run, walk, breathe the air
Or work the garden, that needs care

Find a spot, meditate, and pray
It's all God, He shows the way.
Or, read a book, page by page
It all depends on what's your age!

Take Heart

By Grace Noll Crowell

Heart, does the day seem endless;
 And the road too weary and long?
 Wait awhile in the silence,
 Rest, and you will grow strong
 In the strength of One who has traveled
 This same road long ago.
 He will come with His might and power,
 He will give you the strength to go
 Through the deepest darkest valley,
 And on up the steepest slope.
 His hand will be there to guide you,
 There will be faith and hope
 Like a lamp for you to carry,
 And courage will have a part
 In your valiant upward climbing.
 O weary one, take heart!
